CAPTURED IN ALEXANDRIA

Detectives Who Have Been Following Charles Walton, the Prisoner,
Claim He Has Confessed He Stole
Bronze Figure from Vacant Mansion—Has Been Arrested Before.

With the arrest of Charles Walton in Alexandria yesterday afternoon, while it is claimed, he was in the act of disposing of a quantity of mutilated bronze and pewter ornaments, the local police believe they have the man who carried several thousand dollars' worth of fixtures from the residence of Mrs. Edward F. Quattrone, U. S. N., at 1801 F street northwest. The police are of the opinion the man is also responsible for a large portion of the numerous other vacant-house robberies that have been reported within the past few months.

The man was arrested about 3 o'clock in King street, Alexandria, by Central Office Detectives Barbee and Vermilion, assisted by Policemen Knight, Garvey, and Ferguson, of the Alexandria force. Several days ago the detectives placed Walton under arrest on suspicion of the theft and took him to the office of Lieut. Peck at police headquarters, where he was questioned.

As the local authorities were unable to connect him with the theft, Walton was released. Circulars giving a full description of the missing property were distributed throughout the neighboring States on Tuesday and Wednesday, and on Thursday it was learned one of the figures had been sold to a junk dealer on Kings street, Alexandria.

Makes a Second Visit.
Detective Barbee visited the place Thursday night. He took Mrs. Quattrone to the place yesterday morning to identify the piece. He learned the man who had sold the statue intended to make a second visit to the place in the afternoon.

The detective donned overalls and jumper. About 3 o'clock a man carrying a burlap bag was seen coming down the street.

"I'll put this statue in a place where the Washington detectives will never find it," he told the dealer, and was still talking about the purchase of the bronze when Detective Barbee and Policemen Knight placed him under arrest. He had in his possession a "jimmy," such as is generally used by house robbers.

At police headquarters Walton at first refused to tell anything concerning the theft of the articles, but finally, it is said, he confessed to having taken the fixtures. According to his story, the things were taken between the middle of July and the 1st of August.

The bronze figure recovered is about four feet high and represents a female figure supporting a bracket. Among the articles found in the bag were parts of a hanging lamp and a portion of a chandelier.

There is still a large portion of the missing articles which the police have been unable to locate. The lot consists of four heavy bronze chandeliers, six bronze vases, five bronze wall brackets, a pair of steel fenders and grate plates, and three other bronze statues.

Walton, the Washington police say, was found in both the jail and penitentiary. About eight years ago, they say, he was arrested by Detective Parham on a charge of stealing $5 from a house near Four-and-a-half and C streets northwest. They claim he has been arrested at other times.

DEPLORE PUBLIC INDIFFERENCE

In Point of Attendance, Meeting
Was Highly Disappointing—Masonic Honors for C. D. Semmes Funeral—City Democrats Making Effort to Enthusiasm the Lukewarm.

WASHINGTON HERALD BUREAU,
(Bell Telephone 63.)
250 King Street.

Alexandria, Va., Oct. 25.—A large delegation of members of the High Tent, Independent Order of Rechabites, of Washington, visited this city this evening and conducted a temperance rally at the First Baptist Church. A feature of the visitation was a parade on King street of the Rechabites, headed by a brass band, whose members are connected with the organization. Addresses, urging unceasing warfare against the drink evil, were made by High Tent Chief Ruler N. Elwyn Vowles, Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Rev. Mr. Clark, of Manassas, and former High Tent Chief Ruler Wayne Cordelle, of Washington.

Mr. Vowles pointed out the necessity for active work in the temperance cause in this city, as well as elsewhere, and advised all Alexandrians interested in the movement to join Perseverance Tent, the local organization. He said the younger people should be induced to greater interest in the matter by having them form a junior tent.

Public Indifference Deplored.
Mr. Cordelle deplored the difficulty to arouse public concern in the temperance cause, remarking upon the small number of persons present at the meeting of the society. In that connection, he declared that if the meeting had been gotten up by saloon men it would have been attended by a thousand people. Rev. Dr. Fisher, who followed with a stirring address in behalf of temperance, said that he was disappointed with the meeting on the point of attendance. The absence of a larger crowd, he thought, was due to a failure to properly advertise the rally. He urged the visitors to come again, and promised that on the next occasion the church would be well filled.

Buried with Masonic Honors.
Masonic rites were observed at the funeral this afternoon of Charles D. Semmes, who died suddenly Thursday at the Alexandria Hospital, and was buried to-day in the family burial ground here. With a numerous escort of Masons, the remains were conveyed from the Masonic Temple to Christ Episcopal Church, where the services were conducted by Rev. William J. Morton, the rector. At the grave the services were in charge of officers of Alexandria Washington Lodge of Masons, of which the deceased had been a member. The pallbearers were Robert W. Arnold, Capt. George Young, George H. Evans, Albert Aitchison, T. H. Fisher, M. F. Kerriek, and G. M. Myers.
